SANCTUARY

The Refuge provides lifelong care and protection for farmed animals rescued from abuse and neglect. From animal-centered architecture to daily enrichment activities for every resident, the Refuge's 20 acres are a true sanctuary for over 100 rescued animals.

CONSIDER VEGAN

The Refuge strives to inspire cruelty-free living by offering a welcoming and supportive community of advocates who work to answer questions and provide solutions for people interested in moving toward a vegan lifestyle. Through cooking classes, bake sales, food samplings, and other events, we work to demystify veganism and provide people with the tools they need to make compassionate choices.

ANIMAL-CENTERED ARCHITECTURE

The Refuge is pioneering new design processes for creating compassionate animal housing. We strive to construct our residents' homes the way the animals would if they could build for themselves. The result is not only a fantastic home for our rescues, but an attractive and striking visual representation of our values of equality and compassion for all. "There's no place like home" at the Refuge.

EDUCATION & OUTREACH

Through innovative literature, guided Refuge tours, and community outreach, the Refuge works to educate the public about the suffering factory farmed animals endure: intense confinement, physical mutilation, and the denial of their most basic behaviors.
